Artifacts, Bones, Discourse:
An Interdisciplinary Student Journal
University at Buffalo, SUNY - Buffalo, New York

Call for Papers and Author Guidelines

ABD is an interdisciplinary student journal that was created by graduate students in the Departments of Anthropology and Linguistics at the University at Buffalo. We encourage interested undergraduate and graduate anthropology students focusing on any of the subdisciplines (linguistic, cultural, biological, and archaeology) to submit an abstract for consideration. While previous volumes have focused on particular themes, this year we are excited to hear about any current student research or projects. This is an excellent opportunity for advanced undergraduate and early graduate students to practice writing for publication.

Please submit abstracts to the ABD Editorial Team at: ABDBuffalo@gmail.com. The deadline has been extended to Monday October 1, 2018. You will be notified of your work's preliminary acceptance within one week. Following the review of the abstract submissions, selected authors will be asked to submit an article draft by November 16, 2018. Below is a tentative overview of the editorial timeline for Volume 6:

Friday, November 16, 2018 - First draft of article due to editors

Monday, December 17, 2018 - Articles returned to authors with editorial remarks

Friday, January 25, 2019 - Revised articles due to editors
